Dr. Jerry Major named Chief Executive Officer of McKenna

New Braunfels, Texas— The Board of Directors of the McKenna System announced today that Dr. Jerry Major has been selected to become the McKenna System's new Chief Executive Officer. The McKenna System continues a long-standing commitment to providing nonprofit health and wellness services to the residents of New Braunfels and Comal County. McKenna owns and operates the McKenna Events Center which includes the Children's Museum and the New Braunfit Gym. The Foundation also provides a wide array of services in Comal County through grants and partnerships with other community non-profit organizations.

The Board of Directors selected Dr. Major because of his experience and proven leadership. He previously served as the superintendent in three Texas school districts: Livingston ISD, Comal ISD and Waco ISD. Dr. Major has also served as Interim Chief Executive Officer for the McKenna System since February 1, 2011. His primary responsibilities include the oversight of the McKenna Legacy Foundation and the McKenna Event Center's community programs. The annual compensation for the position is $120,000. "We are fortunate to have Dr. Major as part of the McKenna team. He has demonstrated commitment and passion for the community, as well as the ability to manage large organizations. Dr. Major is a perfect fit for the McKenna organization as it transitions to a community foundation for New Braunfels and the surrounding area," said Wes Studdard, McKenna Board Chairman.
